Robinson-Willey

Robinson Willey is a leading manufacturer of heating appliances whose portfolio includes gas fires and wallheaters, electric fires and fire surrounds and a comprehensive range of electric heating products.

Robinson Willey needed a safe, reliable, cost effective supplier of duplex burners.

In October 2007, after being put in touch with Clean Burner Systems (CBS) via a mutual contact, Robinson Willey were impressed with the quality of CBS-manufactured duplex burners, and after a short negotiation agreed a design and build contract.

Clean Burner Systems is now the prime source of gas burners for Robinson Willey products.

Chris Hall, Purchasing Manager for Robinson Willey, said, "As long as our company exists we will use CBS burners. It's a major performance component so you have to have zero defects and complete reliability. CBS deliver the best safety performance we've ever had"

Chris continues to be impressed with the excellent communication and availability of CBS staff, from the day-to-day contact to regular meetings with Managing Director Steve Smith.

Chris said "nothing is too much trouble for CBS and although issues are few and far between, they're always handled quickly and professionally. We're confident of a long and fruitful partnership."
